and coffin are being hurriedly constructed.

Searched for the Southern Cross was being made tonight with little encouragement. In addition to an unusually large crew, she was loaded heavily with 17,000 seals. Up to dark tonight, she had not taken shelter anywhere on the southern coast, but it was thought here that she was heading before the gale for the Cape Breton shore. It is a disaster has befallen her, it will make the death toll of this storm the greatest in the maritime history of the island.

The Southern Cross Is Safe.

North Sydney, N. S. April 2.—Wireless messages received here tonight report the steamer Southern Cross safe in Channel, N. E. Her loss with a crew of 170 men had been feared.

Interfered With Women.

Charles Carleton, twenty-three years old, was arrested last night at Twenty-fifth and Leigh streets by Bicycle Police men Berard and Bran on the charge of being disorderly at a disorderly house scene on the street. He was locked up at the First Police Station.

ST. AUGUSTINE HAS $400,000 BLAZE

Resorts and Curios Dating Back to Days of Spanish Rule Destroyed.

St. Augustine, Fla., April 2.—Historic St. Augustine, the oldest city in the United States, early to-day was swept by fire, which left in its wake the serious injury of two winter visitors, the destruction of resorts and curios dating back to the days of Spanish rule in the sixteenth century, and a property loss estimated to-night at $400,000.

Winter visitors from the North in five tourist hotels, which were destroyed, fled into the streets before day-break, many of them leaving valuable personal belongings to be burned. Several of the guests escaped garbed only in their night clothing. The personal loss of visitors in the fire has not yet been determined.

Rescue work, performed by the employees of the Florida House, where the fire originated, is believed to have saved many lives, though the smoke-filled halls, they quickly aroused sleeping guests and aided them in finding their way out of the burning building. Notwithstanding efforts by the Florida House employees, about twenty-five guests, who were slow in being aroused, were rescued by firemen by the use of ladders. Although all persons remaining in the building were warned not to jump, women were successful in preventing two persons from jumping from the second floor of the Florida House, however, one of the women's ankles was broken, and he was thrown into the street, where he might have been killed, but physicians tonight said he would recover. Several other persons received minor injuries.

As soon as the extent of the fire became apparent, Company G, of the Florida National Guard, was called out. They formed five lines to the fire, and were ordered to prevent possible attempts at looting.

Besides the Florida House, the other hotels destroyed by the fire, which started shortly after 1 o'clock this morning, were the Munson House, the Clarendon Hotel, the Central Hotel and the Atlantic Hotel.

The St. Augustine County Courthouse, which contained many historic old records, also was burned.

Records of the city, which are believed to have been saved, having been in safety. These are, as yet, in the ruins. The records of the city, which are believed to have been saved, having been in safety. These are, as yet, in the ruins.

Much other property of smaller value was destroyed, including several private residences. The presence of a number of Charles Hopkins saved speed boats, here for the Southern Cross, which were destroyed. When the flames from the boat house overtook the Matanzas house, it cut the boats loose and pushed them into the bay. All thanks to safety.

The fire caused the postponement of the races today. They probably will be resumed to-morrow.

THAT TIRED FEELING IN THE SPRING

That tired feeling that comes to you in the spring, year after year, is a sign that your blood lacks vitality. Just as pimples, boils and other eruptions are signs that it is impure; and it is also a sign that your system is in a low or run-down condition, in which it will be easy for you to contract disease if exposed to it.

Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla. This powerful medicine tried and true blood medicine relieves that tired feeling. Get Hood's to-day.

SHIPS COLLIDE OFF VIRGINIA CAPES

American Steamer Thompson Rammed by Schooner Augustus W. Snow.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Newport News, Va., April 2.—With a hole in her starboard side and in her smokestack, the American steamer Robert M. Thompson arrived here tonight and reported that she had been in collision off the Virginia coast early today with the schooner Augustus W. Snow. The schooner's bow was stove in and she filled rapidly and was waterlogged. The schooner's crew were rescued by ships of the United States Atlantic battleship fleet, while the naval tug Patapsco picked up the schooner, and, by order of Rear-Admiral Badger, commander of the fleet, towed the schooner to Hampton Roads. The schooner's crew was transferred to the tug, and also is being brought to the coast.

The steamer Thompson was bound from Philadelphia to New Orleans with cargo, and was just off the Virginia Capes when the schooner, light for Hampton Roads, rammed her early this morning. The schooner's bowsprit went through the funnel of the steamer, while the prow of the sailing ship smashed a big hole in the side of the steamer. Fortunately, the hole was above the water line, and the steamer was able to make port.

The Thompson went to the shipyard for repairs. The waterlogged schooner was towed to the arrival of Old Point late to-night, in tow of the naval tug.

WOULD RESTORE $700 SALARY CUT

Board Approves Ordinance Making Thompson Superintendent of Patrol System.

The Administrative Board yesterday recommended to the Council for adoption an ordinance which would restore to W. H. Thompson the $700 a year cut in his salary, which was brought about by a vote on April 1 of the officers of the City Electric Plant.

The ordinance provides that the Superintendent of the police patrol telegraph system, which shall receive for discharging the duties of the last named office the sum of $100 a year. Mr. Thompson is at present Superintendent of the City Electric Plant.

If the ordinance is recommended by the Board passes, the former salary of $2,500 a year will be restored.

Under the ordinance as it now stands the City Electric Plant, which is a separate and independent board, the superintendent of the police patrol telegraph system. The two offices are under the present system, the government, unregulated, since each is under the direction of a separate and independent board.

The ordinance will cure the defect by uniting the fire alarm and police patrol systems and placing them under the direction of one office.

The board awarded to the Day Perkins Construction Company yesterday a contract for the reconstruction of the entrances to Capitol Square, Ninth and Capitol Streets and Twelfth and Dark Streets. The two corners are to be rounded off at the corners of the square at Ninth and Dark Streets. The contract price for the improvements is $172,440.

Yvonne.

It is barely possible that one or two new acts being in Richmond may have heard Pageant, undoubtedly a number can recall Old Bull and Wilbur, may remember the wanderer, Remedy—a few of us may recall the recollection of the old Hungarian, as many years ago he held enthralled a mob of irresponsible students at the University of Virginia—and all Richmond, to speak, has heard Maude Powell, Zimbaro, and all the great artists belong to all the world, and last night he played to us, one of the brilliant young Miss Powell, of the rich tone of Mischka Zimbaro, rebekah to the music of the violin, and there remains only the compelling power of the great Yvonne.

All the ravishing beauty of Elman's round, full tone lies in Yvonne's violin, to be drawn out at will, with the power of Kubelick's incredible technique is at his finger tips and in his flexible wrist to make him also a virtuoso, but in addition to those there is that better of them has, of the old school, he is, they say, and what that means is not altogether clear, unless it means that he does not attempt at it times to produce the smooth, polished, soft and pretty tone, but, with occasional requires, makes his violin cry, or sing, or march, or whatever, in order to express what otherwise would be hidden in the music, not to be confused by a quality merely exquisite, he is not afraid to play hard and lead his bow "scratch" at the beginning of phrases—not he. He can, and does, make his instrument whisper until only the suggestion of a tone is there, he can draw his bow softly along the G string, until the sound is nothing but a soft, mellow, and beautiful tone, and he can make his strings and yet send out a round and perfect, lucid, strong, he can play harmonics with a clearness that makes the point of their blending with complete tones, which is impossible to distinguish; all these he can do.

But he is of the old school, they say, and therefore he will make his violin blare and scream, if the music requires it, because he is a great artist and has no desire to perform mere preciosity, nor fears lest some particular phrase be not voiced with "limpidity" or "fluency."

When he chooses he can play with a flowing legato that weaves itself into floating lines of melody, an witness the Handel aria, which pursued its course placidly under a breath, as if it were a single note.

It were, when he likes he can trill, double-ton, treble-ton, execute runs, cadenzas and fill-like ornamentation with faultless precision and flawless intonation, and usually with a tone that violinists are commonly able to obtain only in long-breathed passages. But, remembering mechanically these various items of his towering equipment, one feels, in retrospect, and remains certain that he will at length, as over-whelmingly, the technician, but the artist in the man that permitted him to play with a breadth, an over-whelming, and braiding breadth, that enveloped and pervaded the listener with the glow of the divine itself which irradiated from this master musician, this master singer of the violin.

It doesn't particularly matter what he played, though for the sake of the record it may be said that the program included Grieg's Sonata, No. 1, in G minor, Brahms' Concerto, No. 1, in G minor, an aria of Handel; a short piece by Ysaye himself, and a Scherzo.

STREETS IN BAD SHAPE

West End Citizens' Association Wants Road Repaired.

At a meeting of the West End Citizens' Association, held last night in the Rath-keon on improvements and complaints against the city, the committee on streets and sidewalks was organized. The committee in its report called special attention to the bad condition of certain streets, and the need of improvement to remedy them.

An interesting address was made by D. C. O'Flaherty, whose subject was "The Ideal City."

Friends of candidates for the office of Mayor and for the City Council requested that the association permit them to speak at the next meeting, and this was agreed to. The association will meet on April 15 to hear the candidates, although the organization is not political.

Services at Beth Abrahah.
